

The Measuring American Poverty Act

A Draft Proposal By Representative Jim McDermott

Modern Poverty Measure –

The measure would largely follow the 1995 recommendations of the National Academy of Sciences (NAS) to improve and update the current poverty measurement. This new definition would continue to track significant deprivation, but it would be based on current consumption patterns, rather than consumption in the 1950s.

Instead of multiplying the cost of a minimally adequate diet by a factor of three (as the present poverty definition does), this measure would peg the poverty threshold to a percentage of current median expenditures on food, clothing, shelter and other very basic necessities. Additionally, the updated measure would count both income assistance (ie., EITC, food stamps and housing assistance) and necessary expenses (ie., federal taxes, work expenses and out-of-pocket medical expenses) not considered in the current poverty measure. Finally, the new measure would account for geographical differences in the cost of living.

The Modern Poverty Measure would be calculated by the Census Bureau, which would track the poverty rate under this new definition, as well as provide pre- and post-transfer poverty rates to gauge the impact of public assistance.

Historical Poverty Measure –

In addition to publishing the new Modern Poverty Measure, the Census Bureau would continue to generate poverty rates as currently calculated. No change would occur for programs that presently determine individual eligibility or broader allotments based on the current official poverty measure. As programs are reauthorized or modified in the future, case-by-case assessments would determine if eligibility is guided by the new Modern Poverty Measure.

Measuring Other Standards of Need –

Some needs and deprivations that are not fully captured by the proposed Modern Poverty Measure require additional research to establish national standards. Therefore, the National Academy of Sciences would be commissioned to establish two separate panels to make recommendations regarding the creation of a basic needs living standard (measuring a higher level of subsistence than the Modern Poverty Measure, but still only permitting a person to meet basic living expenses for a decent standard of living) and a medical care risk measure (assessing the risk of being unable to afford needed medical care and services).

[DISCUSSION DRAFT]

110TH CONGRESS
2^D SESSION

H. R. _____

To amend title XI of the Social Security Act to provide for an improved method to measure poverty so as to enable a better assessment of the effects of programs under the Social Security Act, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. McDERMOTT introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To amend title XI of the Social Security Act to provide for an improved method to measure poverty so as to enable a better assessment of the effects of programs under the Social Security Act, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Measuring American
5 Poverty Act of 2008”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 The Congress finds as follows:

1 (1) On January 22, 2008, the House of Rep-
2 representatives, by voice vote, passed House Concurrent
3 Resolution 198 expressing the sense of the Congress
4 that the United States should set a national goal of
5 cutting poverty in half over the next 10 years.

6 (2) The poverty rate is a critical indicator of 7 how widely shared prosperity is in the economy, and
8 a key benchmark for targeting resources towards the 9 most disadvantaged.

10 (3) The official poverty measure, while helpful,
11 is based on outdated assumptions and fails to accu-
12 rately measure economic deprivation or take into ac-
13 count the availability of many economic resources.

14 (4) The official poverty measure offers inad-
15 equate guidance about the effectiveness of public
16 anti-poverty efforts.

17 (5) In 1995, the National Academy of Sciences'
18 Panel on Poverty and Family Assistance rec-
19 ommended adoption of an improved poverty meas-
20 ure, which addresses many shortcomings of the offi-
21 cial poverty measure and which remains relevant
22 and offers a starting point for an improved measure.

23 SEC. 3. STATEMENT OF PURPOSE.

24 The purpose of this Act is to provide for an improved
25 and updated method for measuring the extent to which

1 families in the United States have sufficient income to
2 allow a minimal, socially acceptable, level of consumption
3 that meets their basic physical needs, including food, shel-
4 ter (including utilities), clothing, and other necessary
5 items, in order to better assess the effects of certain public
6 assistance programs in reducing the prevalence and depth
7 of poverty, to accurately gauge the level of economic depri-
8 vation, and to ensure appropriate targeting of public re-
9 sources.

10 SEC. 4. MODERNIZATION OF THE MEASUREMENT OF POV-
11 ERTY.

12 Part A of title XI of the Social Security Act (42
13 U.S.C. 1301–1320b-21) is amended by adding at the end
14 the following:

15 “SEC. 1150A. MODERNIZATION OF THE MEASUREMENT OF 16 POVERTY.

18 collaboration with the Bureau of Labor Statistics, after
19 consultation about methodology with other Federal statis-
20 tical agencies and outside experts, shall, to the extent pos-
21 sible and based on the best available data, calculate mod-
22 ern poverty thresholds and modern poverty rates for each
23 calendar year (including any calendar year before 2009
24 for which the information needed to perform the calcula-
25 tions is available or can be estimated with a reasonable

10 penditures on food, clothing, and shelter (including 11 utilities) during each of the 3 most recent years for
12 which data is available from the Consumer Expendi-
13 ture Survey, a superior Federal government source
14 of data, or some combination of such sources.

16 POSITION, AND FOR GEOGRAPHIC COST VARI-
17 ATION.—The Bureau of the Census shall adjust the 18 modern poverty threshold calculated under para-
19 graph (1)—

20 “(A) for other family sizes and composi-
21 tions, using the best available equivalence scales
22 that consider economies of scale; and
