

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 18th Congressional District of Illinois

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Schock's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 6,300 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 8,900 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $12.8 million, an average discount of $650 per person in 2011, $670 in 2012, and $1,050 thus far in 2013.
- 127,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 217,000 individuals in the district – including 47,000 children and 87,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 190,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 18,700 consumers in the district received approximately $4.2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $52 per family in 2012 and $380 per family in 2011.
- Up to 40,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 256,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 50,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 38,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 6th Congressional District of Illinois

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Roskam's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 5,200 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 7,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $11.8 million, an average discount of $690 per person in 2011, $740 in 2012, and $910 thus far in 2013.
- 87,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 243,000 individuals in the district – including 62,000 children and 95,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 234,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 21,000 consumers in the district received approximately $4.8 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $52 per family in 2012 and $380 per family in 2011.
- Up to 44,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 315,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 45,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 48,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 1st Congressional District of Wisconsin

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Education and
the Workforce

Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Ryan's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 4,500 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 9,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $14 million, an average discount of $650 per person in 2011, $730 in 2012, and $780 thus far in 2013.
- 123,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 213,000 individuals in the district – including 50,000 children and 84,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 165,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 36,300 consumers in the district received approximately $1.8 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011.
- Up to 42,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 259,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 61,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 34,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 12th Congressional District of Ohio

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Tiberi's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 5,700 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 12,100 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $16.5 million, an average discount of $500 per person in 2011, $820 in 2012, and $720 thus far in 2013.
- 116,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 229,000 individuals in the district – including 55,000 children and 89,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 210,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 10,200 consumers in the district received approximately $800,000 in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $133 per family in 2012 and $139 per family in 2011.
- Up to 42,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 284,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 64,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 42,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 3rd Congressional District of Pennsylvania

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Kelly's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 4,700 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 14,600 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $22.3 million, an average discount of $660 per person in 2011, $790 in 2012, and $830 thus far in 2013.
- 144,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 196,000 individuals in the district – including 37,000 children and 82,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 148,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 30,400 consumers in the district received approximately $3.1 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $77 per family in 2012 and $165 per family in 2011.
- Up to 38,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 219,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 71,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 30,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 2nd Congressional District of Kansas

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Jenkins's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 6,900 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 8,900 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $11.5 million, an average discount of $590 per person in 2011, $650 in 2012, and $990 thus far in 2013.
- 123,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 207,000 individuals in the district – including 44,000 children and 84,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 169,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 20,600 consumers in the district received approximately $2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $71 per family in 2012 and $91 per family in 2011.
- Up to 41,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 237,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 84,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 43,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 8th Congressional District of Texas

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Brady's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 8,600 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 9,400 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $12.9 million, an average discount of $630 per person in 2011, $700 in 2012, and $620 thus far in 2013.
- 111,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 183,000 individuals in the district – including 46,000 children and 71,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 169,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 46,700 consumers in the district received approximately $6.6 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $95 per family in 2012 and $187 per family in 2011.
- Up to 44,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 225,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 143,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 31,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 24th Congressional District of Texas

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Marchant's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 9,100 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 8,000 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $11.9 million, an average discount of $690 per person in 2011, $750 in 2012, and $880 thus far in 2013.
- 75,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 199,000 individuals in the district – including 44,000 children and 79,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 197,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 51,000 consumers in the district received approximately $7.2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $95 per family in 2012 and $187 per family in 2011.
- Up to 41,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 261,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 143,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 40,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 16th Congressional District of Ohio

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Renacci's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 4,800 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 10,100 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $13.7 million, an average discount of $510 per person in 2011, $770 in 2012, and $990 thus far in 2013.
- 104,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 228,000 individuals in the district – including 51,000 children and 92,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 200,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 10,200 consumers in the district received approximately $800,000 in insurance company rebates in 2011 and 2012 – an average rebate of $133 per family in 2012 and $139 per family in 2011.
- Up to 40,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 272,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 68,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 37,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 6th Congressional District of Pennsylvania

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Gerlach's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 4,200 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 11,300 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $16.6 million, an average discount of $680 per person in 2011, $730 in 2012, and $760 thus far in 2013.
- 104,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 244,000 individuals in the district – including 58,000 children and 96,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 208,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 37,900 consumers in the district received approximately $3.8 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $77 per family in 2012 and $165 per family in 2011.
- Up to 40,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 303,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 50,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 49,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 3rd Congressional District of Minnesota

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop-shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Paulsen's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 3,300 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 8,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $12.2 million, an average discount of $620 per person in 2011, $680 in 2012, and $1,070 thus far in 2013.
- 108,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 220,000 individuals in the district – including 54,000 children and 87,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 150,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 16,600 consumers in the district received approximately $1.4 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011– an average rebate of $303 per family in 2012 and $160 per family in 2011.
- Up to 40,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 282,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 53,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 42,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 6th Congressional District of Tennessee

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Black's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 5,600 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 9,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $12.7 million, an average discount of $590 per person in 2011, $640 in 2012, and $690 thus far in 2013.
- 134,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 184,000 individuals in the district – including 40,000 children and 74,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 188,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 26,900 consumers in the district received approximately $3.9 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $69 per family in 2012 and $201 per family in 2011.
- Up to 40,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 217,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 101,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 37,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 22nd Congressional District of California

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Nunes's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 8,400 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 5,600 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $7.2 million, an average discount of $570 per person in 2011, $700 in 2012, and $570 thus far in 2013.
- 83,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 161,000 individuals in the district – including 43,000 children and 62,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 184,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 32,900 consumers in the district received approximately $2.4 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $71 per family in 2012 and $65 per family in 2011.
- Up to 49,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 196,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 131,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 32,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 8th Congressional District of Washington

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Reichert's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 5,400 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 6,900 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $9.9 million, an average discount of $570 per person in 2011, $800 in 2012, and $1,060 thus far in 2013.
- 100,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 209,000 individuals in the district – including 52,000 children and 80,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 202,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 800 consumers in the district received approximately $200,000 in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011—an average rebate of $512 per family in 2012 and $185 per family in 2011.
- Up to 42,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 252,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 80,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 41,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 4th Congressional District of Michigan

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Camp's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 7,500 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 8,000 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $10 million, an average discount of $550 per person in 2011, $780 in 2012, and $740 thus far in 2013.
- 143,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 196,000 individuals in the district – including 38,000 children and 81,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 154,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 15,900 consumers in the district received approximately $2.3 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $138 per family in 2012 and $214 per family in 2011.
- Up to 37,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 216,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.

Up to 81,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 27,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 3rd Congressional District of Louisiana

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Boustany's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 8,700 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 8,500 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $11.5 million, an average discount of $640 per person in 2011, $760 in 2012, and $980 thus far in 2013.
- 116,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 187,000 individuals in the district – including 43,000 children and 75,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 165,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 14,100 consumers in the district received approximately $1.1 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $50 per family in 2012 and $94 per family in 2011.
- Up to 47,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 226,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 130,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 48,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 3rd Congressional District of Nebraska

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Education and
the Workforce

Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Smith's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 5,000 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 10,100 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $13.5 million, an average discount of $620 per person in 2011, $670 in 2012, and $830 thus far in 2013.
- 123,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 177,000 individuals in the district – including 39,000 children and 70,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 142,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 14,900 consumers in the district received approximately $2.2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $82 per family in 2012 and $215 per family in 2011.
- Up to 35,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 211,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 70,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 60,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 16th Congressional District of Florida

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Education and
the Workforce

Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Buchanan's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 5,700 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 16,400 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $22.2 million, an average discount of $620 per person in 2011, $730 in 2012, and $470 thus far in 2013.
- 187,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 177,000 individuals in the district – including 26,000 children and 81,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 136,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 49,900 consumers in the district received approximately $7.1 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $132 per family in 2012 and $168 per family in 2011.
- Up to 30,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 173,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 125,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 48,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 23rd Congressional District of New York

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Reed's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 6,800 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 10,100 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $17.5 million, an average discount of $760 per person in 2011, $860 in 2012, and $790 thus far in 2013.
- 145,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 199,000 individuals in the district – including 37,000 children and 84,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 204,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 39,000 consumers in the district received approximately $4.6 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $92 per family in 2012 and $138 per family in 2011.
- Up to 37,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 231,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 66,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 42,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 6th Congressional District of Georgia

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Education and
the Workforce

Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Price's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 6,800 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 7,900 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $11.7 million, an average discount of $660 per person in 2011, $780 in 2012, and $610 thus far in 2013.
- 73,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 215,000 individuals in the district – including 56,000 children and 81,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 200,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 21,900 consumers in the district received approximately $3.1 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $82 per family in 2012 and $134 per family in 2011.
- Up to 42,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 288,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 111,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 60,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 9th Congressional District of Indiana

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Young's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 8,300 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 9,300 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $13.7 million, an average discount of $680 per person in 2011, $720 in 2012, and $700 thus far in 2013.
- 110,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 213,000 individuals in the district – including 45,000 children and 86,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 135,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 33,800 consumers in the district received approximately $4.4 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $157 per family in 2012 and $99 per family in 2011.
- Up to 40,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 255,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 91,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 35,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 2nd Congressional District of Arkansas

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Griffin's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 9,500 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 3,400 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $7.6 million, an average discount of $600 per person in 2011, $730 in 2012, and $990 thus far in 2013.
- 125,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 195,000 individuals in the district – including 41,000 children and 81,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 158,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 34,200 consumers in the district received approximately $3.2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $49 per family in 2012 and $114 per family in 2011.
- Up to 42,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 223,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 113,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 40,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 3rd Congressional District of Texas

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Johnson's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 7,000 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 7,300 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $10.5 million, an average discount of $670 per person in 2011, $740 in 2012, and $580 thus far in 2013.
- 72,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 230,000 individuals in the district – including 65,000 children and 86,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 228,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 58,800 consumers in the district received approximately $8.3 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $95 per family in 2012 and $187 per family in 2011.
- Up to 48,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 306,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 102,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 38,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 7th Congressional District of Illinois

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Davis's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 8,600 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 4,200 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $6.4 million, an average discount of $690 per person in 2011, $770 in 2012, and $810 thus far in 2013.
- 88,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 148,000 individuals in the district – including 23,000 children and 68,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 144,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 12,700 consumers in the district received approximately $2.9 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $52 per family in 2012 and $380 per family in 2011.
- Up to 39,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 192,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 116,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 30,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 14th Congressional District of New York

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Crowley's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 6,400 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 6,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $9.9 million, an average discount of $680 per person in 2011, $760 in 2012, and $570 thus far in 2013.
- 103,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 135,000 individuals in the district – including 27,000 children and 56,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 142,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 26,400 consumers in the district received approximately $3.1 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $92 per family in 2012 and $138 per family in 2011.
- Up to 36,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 162,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 159,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 26,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 3rd Congressional District of Oregon

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Blumenauer's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 9,300 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 6,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $8.3 million, an average discount of $530 per person in 2011, $580 in 2012, and $890 thus far in 2013.
- 106,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 206,000 individuals in the district – including 37,000 children and 89,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 244,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 4,700 consumers in the district received approximately $1.5 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011—an average rebate of $206 per family in 2012 and $368 per family in 2011.
- Up to 39,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 259,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 126,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 59,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 13th Congressional District of Pennsylvania

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Schwartz's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 4,700 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 8,900 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $13.4 million, an average discount of $680 per person in 2011, $750 in 2012, and $620 thus far in 2013.
- 103,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 205,000 individuals in the district – including 45,000 children and 82,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 175,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 31,800 consumers in the district received approximately $3.2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $77 per family in 2012 and $165 per family in 2011.
- Up to 39,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 254,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 86,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 43,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 46th Congressional District of California

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Sanchez's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 9,400 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 3,600 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $4.5 million, an average discount of $540 per person in 2011, $630 in 2012, and $980 thus far in 2013.
- 59,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 131,000 individuals in the district – including 30,000 children and 52,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 166,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 26,900 consumers in the district received approximately $2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $71 per family in 2012 and $65 per family in 2011.
- Up to 48,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 177,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 194,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 27,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 9th Congressional District of New Jersey

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Pascrell's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 6,000 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents plan.
- More than 11,200 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $17.9 million, an average discount of $750 per person in 2011, $910 in 2012, and $700 thus far in 2013.
- 107,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 175,000 individuals in the district – including 36,000 children and 71,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 163,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 15,200 consumers in the district received approximately $1.3 million in insurance company rebates in 2011 and 2012 – an average rebate of $104 per family in 2012 and $300 per family in 2011.
- Up to 41,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 224,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 140,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 26,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 3rd Congressional District of Wisconsin

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Education and
the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Kind's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 7,000 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 6,700 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $8.6 million, an average discount of $590 per person in 2011, $730 in 2012, and $580 thus far in 2013.
- 122,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 206,000 individuals in the district – including 41,000 children and 84,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 172,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 35,300 consumers in the district received approximately $1.7 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011.
- Up to 38,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 241,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 67,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 34,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 34th Congressional District of California

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Becerra's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 9,300 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 1,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $2.2 million, an average discount of $510 per person in 2011, $570 in 2012, and $1,050 thus far in 2013.
- 63,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 92,000 individuals in the district – including 17,000 children and 37,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 118,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 18,800 consumers in the district received approximately $1.4 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $71 per family in 2012 and $65 per family in 2011.
- Up to 40,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 124,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 241,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 28,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 5th Congressional District of California

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Thompson's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 7,500 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 6,000 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $6.9 million, an average discount of $500 per person in 2011, $570 in 2012, and $620 thus far in 2013.
- 100,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 194,000 individuals in the district – including 41,000 children and 81,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 224,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 39,800 consumers in the district received approximately $3 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $71 per family in 2012 and $65 per family in 2011.
- Up to 38,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 236,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 104,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 46,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 13th Congressional District of New York

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Rangel's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 7,100 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 4,200 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $5.8 million, an average discount of $620 per person in 2011, $770 in 2012, and $590 thus far in 2013.
- 92,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 122,000 individuals in the district – including 23,000 children and 54,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 130,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 23,800 consumers in the district received approximately $2.8 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $92 per family in 2012 and $138 per family in 2011.
- Up to 39,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 150,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 136,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 19,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 1st Congressional District of Massachusetts

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop-shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Neal's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 2,200 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 7,700 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $10.7 million, an average discount of $640 per person in 2011, $700 in 2012, and $890 thus far in 2013.
- 150,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 201,000 individuals in the district – including 39,000 children and 86,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 187,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 17,400 consumers in the district received approximately $4.6 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011– an average rebate of $457 per family in 2012 and $140 per family in 2011.
- Up to 39,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 232,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 30,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 33,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 7th Congressional District of Washington

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. McDermott's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 7,600 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 5,700 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $8.9 million, an average discount of $640 per person in 2011, $790 in 2012, and $990 thus far in 2013.
- 94,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 215,000 individuals in the district – including 35,000 children and 93,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 229,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 900 consumers in the district received approximately $200,000 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011-an average rebate of $512 per family in 2012 and $185 per family in 2011.
- Up to 26,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 279,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 77,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 62,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 5th Congressional District of Georgia

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Education and
the Workforce

Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Lewis's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 12,400 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 4,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $7.1 million, an average discount of $600 per person in 2011, $760 in 2012, and $1,110 thus far in 2013.
- 83,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 157,000 individuals in the district – including 24,000 children and 70,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 137,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 16,000 consumers in the district received approximately $2.2 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $82 per family in 2012 and $134 per family in 2011.
- Up to 36,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 200,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 164,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 39,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 9th Congressional District of Michigan

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent, one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Levin's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 5,400 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 10,400 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $14.1 million, an average discount of $620 per person in 2011, $770 in 2012, and $530 thus far in 2013.
- 153,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 202,000 individuals in the district – including 38,000 children and 86,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 170,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 16,400 consumers in the district received approximately $2.4 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $138 per family in 2012 and $214 per family in 2011.
- Up to 36,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 235,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 93,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 35,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 1st Congressional District of Connecticut

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Larson's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 4,400 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 10,800 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $15.2 million, an average discount of $650 per person in 2011, $910 in 2012, and $770 thus far in 2013.
- 125,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 208,000 individuals in the district – including 43,000 children and 87,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 199,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 27,000 consumers in the district received approximately $3.7 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $168 per family in 2012 and $168 per family in 2011.
- Up to 39,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 247,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- 61,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition. In addition, the 25,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

July 2013

Benefits of the Health Care Reform Law in the 35th Congressional District of Texas

Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and
Education and the Workforce
Democratic Staff Report

The landmark Affordable Care Act (ACA) began delivering important new benefits and protections to tens of millions of American families almost immediately after it was signed into law by President Obama. But the largest benefits of the law will become available to consumers on October 1, 2013, when health insurance marketplaces open in all 50 states. These marketplaces will offer individuals, families, and small businesses an efficient, transparent one-stop shop to compare health insurance policies, receive financial assistance, and sign up for high-quality, affordable, and secure insurance coverage.

This fact sheet summarizes new data on the significant benefits of the health care reform law in Rep. Doggett's district. It also provides the first picture of the impacts of the law in districts redrawn or newly created following the 2010 Census. As a result of the law:

- 12,800 young adults in the district now have health insurance through their parents' plan.
- More than 3,600 seniors in the district received prescription drug discounts worth $5.2 million, an average discount of $640 per person in 2011, $670 in 2012, and $1,030 thus far in 2013.
- 77,000 seniors in the district are now eligible for Medicare preventive services without paying any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 137,000 individuals in the district – including 28,000 children and 55,000 women – now have health insurance that covers preventive services without any co-pays, coinsurance, or deductible.
- 118,000 individuals in the district are saving money due to ACA provisions that prevent insurance companies from spending more than 20% of their premiums on profits and administrative overhead. Because of these protections, over 34,900 consumers in the district received approximately $4.9 million in insurance company rebates in 2012 and 2011 – an average rebate of $95 per family in 2012 and $187 per family in 2011.
- Up to 47,000 children in the district with preexisting health conditions can no longer be denied coverage by health insurers.
- 160,000 individuals in the district now have insurance that cannot place lifetime limits on their coverage and will not face annual limits on coverage starting in 2014.
- Up to 188,000 individuals in the district who lack health insurance will have access to quality, affordable coverage without fear of discrimination or higher rates because of a preexisting health condition.¹ In addition, the 18,000 individuals who currently purchase private health insurance on the individual or small group market will have access to more secure, higher quality coverage and many will be eligible for financial assistance.

¹ Presently, coverage for many of these individuals – those with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level – is in doubt. The ACA provides for the fully funded expansion of Medicaid to cover these individuals. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that the decision to take these funds and provide this coverage is at the discretion of the Governor and the Legislature. To date, the Governor and Legislature have not approved the expansion of Medicaid to these individuals, putting their access to affordable coverage in doubt.