

Over 3 Million Real Jobs Eliminated While Democrats Continue to Claim Thousands of Jobs "Saved and Created"

"A package in the range that the President-Elect has discussed is expected to create between three and four million jobs by the end of 2010." (Christina Romer and Jared Bernstein)	"The final House-Senate conference agreement of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act will...[c]reate and save 3.5 million jobs..." (Speaker Nancy Pelosi)	"And we've already begun to implement the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act -- a plan that will save and create over 3.5 million jobs over the next two years..." (President Barack Obama)	"We began by passing a Recovery Act that has already saved or created over 150,000 jobs..." (President Barack Obama)	"In these last few months, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act has saved or created nearly 150,000 jobs..." (President Barack Obama)	"Mr. Obama began a new effort on Monday to show that his stimulus plan was yielding concrete benefits, saying that his administration expects to save or create 600,000 more jobs this summer..." (NY Times)	"We expect the recovery act to ramp up over the next few months. By the end of the summer, we think we will have saved or created 750,000 jobs. By the end of next year, 3.5 million." (Jared Bernstein)	"These calculations imply that employment is now about 485,000 jobs above what it otherwise would have been during the second quarter of 2009." (Christina Romer)	"One hundred days ago, on June the 8th, I stated that we had -- I believed that we had saved or created 150,000 jobs in the first hundred days. And I went on to say...that we will create another 600,000 jobs in the second hundred days." (Vice President Joe Biden)
---	---	---	--	---	--	--	---	---