

WAYS AND MEANS

KEVIN BRADY, REPUBLICAN LEADER

USMCA: A Win for American Workers We Must Pass Without Delay

Topline: The new United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement negotiated by President Trump and his team will grow our strong economy. This trade deal is a win for American workers, farmers, and manufacturers.

Pass USMCA Now: There is No Excuse for Failing to Pass USMCA

- America's workers can't afford to wait any longer.
- Democrats must join with Republicans in passing USMCA and should not allow special interests to walk away from what's best for America.

The Numbers Show USMCA Puts American Workers First

- Over $68 billion in new economic activity
- 176,000 new jobs here in America
- $34 billion in new auto plants
- 76,000 new American automotive sector jobs

While Finetuning Between Lighthizer and Pelosi Reflects Realities of Divided Government, Republican Priorities are Maintained

- Republican priorities dominate the new USMCA, including strong enforcement of the entire agreement and ending panel blocking by any country. This bipartisan agreement will set the stage for greater economic growth for the U.S.

American Farmers and Ranchers Can Finally Compete on an Even Playing Field

- For the first time, we have pried open Canada's market to sell American dairy, wheat, chicken, eggs, and turkey.

American Innovators Empowered to Sell Goods and Services Globally

- For the first time in any trade agreement, there is a new chapter dedicated to digital trade, furthering digital innovators and allowing for a stronger American economy.

A Substantial Improvement Over NAFTA

- Passed over 24 years ago, NAFTA had to be modernized for the 21st century with stronger enforcement provisions, among other major improvements.

Bipartisan Agreement, not Radical Leftist Ideas

- Historic labor and environmental reforms in USMCA will have a more meaningful and balanced impact than liberals Democrats' demands for including provisions from the Paris Climate Accord or the expensive Butch Lewis Multiemployer Pension Act. By setting strict appropriations requirements around some of the additional spending Democrats have called for, USMCA reins in reckless spending.

Bottom Line: American workers have a major victory in USMCA – and will suffer the biggest loss if Democrats refuse to pass this agreement. We cannot afford to delay. It's time to pass #USMCAnow.
